

AIA New York | Center for Architecture
2025 New Practices New York Image Release

Project permissions note:

By completing the Image Permission form, the submitter agrees that they have obtained all necessary permissions from the submitted project’s design lead and owners/client to participate in the exhibition.

Publications and exhibitions note:

By submitting an image to Center for Architecture / AIA New York Chapter (AIANY) publications and exhibitions, the submitter confirms AIANY’s right to reproduce the image for unrestricted use in the New Practices New York webpage, publications and unrestricted publicity in relation to the project. Submitter must provide appropriate photography and copyright credits, where applicable, for each image or photograph used. No royalties or other fees shall be payable to anyone by the AIA New York Chapter, the American Institute of Architects, and all AIA Chapters for use of these materials in relation to the exhibition unless agreed upon by AIANY. The AIA New York Chapter, the American Institute of Architects, and all AIA Chapters will not be responsible for failure of any other person or organization to use this information in their publicity.

In acceptance of this agreement, I certify that I am willing and have authority to lend the item(s) on the conditions given above.
